

Charisse Carney-Nunes, writer, speaker and social entrepreneur, is the award-winning author of the children's books, I AM BARACK OBAMA (2009), I DREAM FOR YOU A WORLD: A COVENANT FOR OUR CHILDREN (2007) and NAPPY (2006), as well as SONGS OF A SISTERMOM: MOTHERHOOD POEMS (2004). Charisse is the founder of a publishing company, Brand Nu Words LLC where she has sold over 10,000 books; a senior officer of The Jamestown Project, an action-oriented think tank focusing on democracy; and a Diamond Life Member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. She is a graduate of Harvard Law School, where she was a schoolmate of President Obama, Harvard's JFK School of Government, and Lincoln University in Pennsylvania.

Charisse has served as a speaker or presenter for numerous national and regional organizations, and has appeared on ABC News Now, CBS's CW Network, Comcast's CN-8, Radio One, and American Urban Radio Networks. She resides in Washington, DC with her husband of over thirteen years, Harvey, and their daughter and son. Visit her website, www.BrandNuWords.com where you may contact her for bookings and engagements.